Partnership and Events

Greetings from SAARC Development Fund.

In 2021, we have achieved sustainable results to promote the well-being of the people of South Asia. This was due to the substantial support we have received from our partners and supporters in the SAARC Member States.

The SDF team would like to wish you a very happy, prosperous and a safe New Year!

SAARC Development Fund (SDF) was established in April 2010 as a regional financial institution for SAARC projects and programmes. SDF's Mandate is to promote regional integration and economic cooperation.

In the last eleven years, SDF has embarked on new projects, forged new partnerships and initiated numerous interventions to enable SDF to become a more dynamic and robust umbrella-funding institution, amply capable of delivering the benefits of regional engagement to the millions in the region through project-based collaboration.

SDF operates through the three financing windows: Social, Economic and Infrastructure. SDF has about 100 projects approved by the SDF Board under the three funding windows with a fund commitment/allocation of over USD 134 million.

This newsletter highlights SDF's continued commitment towards promoting the welfare of the people of SAARC Region, improving their quality of life, accelerating economic growth and social progress, and alleviating poverty through financing and implementation of development projects in all the SAARC Member States.

Climate Smart Agriculture in South Asia: Fostering regional cooperation for sustainable and resilient agricultural adaptation Dhaka, Bangladesh, 24 November 2021: The International Fund for Agricultural Development (IFAD), SAARC Agriculture Centre (SAC), International Food Policy Research Institute (IFPRI) and SAARC Development Fund (SDF) launched a partnership for Scaling-up Climate Smart Agriculture in South Asia. The central objective of the partnership is to develop evidence-based strategies to collectively tackle the impact of climate change in South Asia.

Agriculture has historically been a risky business, and it is becoming riskier due to climate change and its associated impacts on agri-food systems. According to one estimate, the region could lose between 10-50 percent of crop production by end of the century due to global warming. Yet, the sector is still the main source of livelihood for over 50 percent of the population in South Asia. This reality calls for integrating climate change adaptation and mitigation strategies with an overarching goal of ensuring food, nutrition, and livelihood security for millions of underprivileged and marginalized people living in the region.

The partnership will focus on promoting sustainable and resilient agricultural intensification in South Asia through building the capacity of institutions and enhancing skills, to scale-up climate smart strategies and technologies.

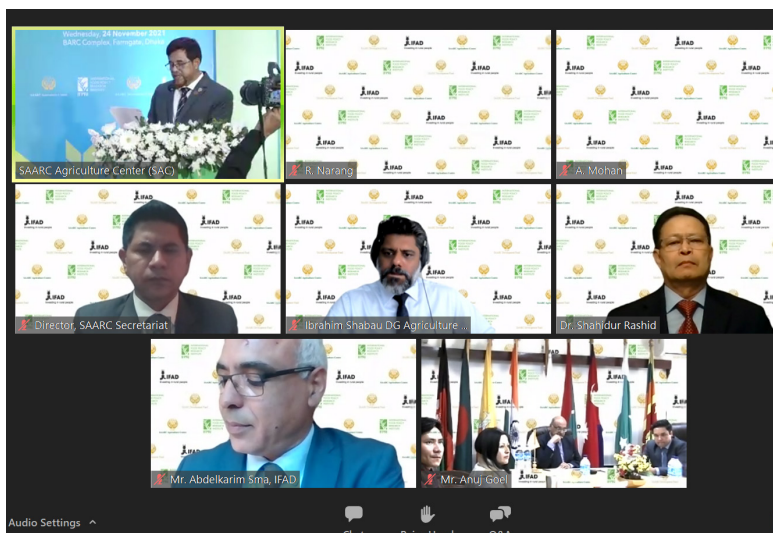

The consortium will foster partnership and cooperation to provide support on:

- 1) accelerating the identification and scaling-up of viable CSA interventions through national policies and programs in South Asia
- (2) setting-up effective and efficient mechanisms for knowledge sharing, policy dialogue, and cooperation in R&D programs among SAARC countries on CSA.

On November 24, 2021, an official launch of the project was organized. During the event, SAARC member states outlined their roles and responsibilities for implementing the project. The event also highlighted the importance of regional cooperation in promoting sustainable and resilient agricultural intensification in South Asia.

“We hope that our collective support will augment the continuous efforts of all the Member States towards enhancing the adaptive capacity of especially our smallholder farmers against the impacts of climate change,” said Officer-In-Charge of SAARC Development Fund and Director, Social Window, Mr. Anuj Goel. 3

The project will target to benefit smallholders focusing on women farmers, as well as researchers, extension workers, and policy makers in SAARC member countries, with a particular focus on Afghanistan, Bangladesh, Bhutan, India, Nepal, Pakistan, and Sri Lanka for piloting and scaling up of CSA technologies. All SAARC countries including Maldives will also benefit from capacity building and knowledge sharing activities.
